OUR SUMMER HOLIDAYS

The summer holidays were long and busy. Ken and Joans spent time with granddaughters, Annie 6, Amy nearly 5 and Megan just 2. We enjoyed visits to many different places - two of which we would recommend.

Woburn Safari Park

An extremely easy place to visit, with many different attractions including activities for small children. Our girls especially enjoyed the play park, ride on the train and the adventure playground. We also watched the sea lions - short, but enjoyable show. The safari park was much more interesting. There are plenty of places to park, picnic and walk. We plan to return one day as we still want to have a go on some of the rides we didn't have time for.

Cadbury World

Collectively we all agreed that our best day out was to Cadbury World in Birmingham. An hour's drive, but easy to find and ample parking. The play park was great fun and the girls all enjoyed the numerous other attractions including face painting, magic show, Punch & Judy and the tour of the Cadbury Exhibition. We found it good value for money, took a picnic, ate too much chocolate, but did bring some home to share.
